

PRESS INFORMATION

EMS-CHEMIE named “Supplier of the Year” by General Motors

General Motors (GM) has commended EMS-CHEMIE AG as «Supplier of the Year». GM awards this coveted prize to their best global suppliers.

General Motors awards the prize «Supplier of the Year» annually. This prize is awarded to supply companies who provided an excellent service throughout the world in the previous year. This prize is held in high reputation within the GM organisation. From a total of 20,000 suppliers, one company is chosen in each of 82 different segments, for the first time also in the segment «Resin and Raw Materials» where it was awarded to EMS-CHEMIE. It is the first time in the 15-year history of the GM awards that a company which is not a direct supplier of GM has been commended. Magdalena Martullo, CEO of the EMS Group, accepted the prize at an official ceremony held on March 10, 2011 in Detroit (USA).

Evaluation criteria

The criteria for evaluation are innovative technology, above-average quality, excellent support during new product launches and competitive total cost solutions.

Receipt of this award by EMS is due to the exceptional work of EMS-GRIVORY. In connection with the award to EMS, GM praised the good, long-year, supplier relationship, the excellent support, great solidarity, supply reliability and engagement as well as the hard work carried out by the EMS team in the last years.

March 10, 2011: Magdalena Martullo, CEO of the EMS Group, accepts the award «Supplier of the Year» in Detroit.

Dave McKean, Executive Director Global Purchasing & Supply Chain, GM and Jeff Boyer Exterior Director Global Interior GM (from right) are pleased to make the award to EMS-CHEMIE.

The coveted «Supplier of the Year» award.

*Pictures / Copyright: EMS-CHEMIE AG/GM
Reprint free of charge when source is named*

